

Our Past & Our Future

YDL was awarded a congressional declaration celebrating our 150th year

150 years ago, the first lending library in Ypsilanti was established by six women with a vision to promote literacy, support democracy, and build a vibrant community.

As the Ypsilanti District Library celebrated that milestone anniversary, we also forged ahead with exciting new projects and strategic plan goals. We added a new collection of STEM learning toys and launched a new, year-round family reading program that engages older kids and encourages families to read together. 2018 also saw a 30%+ increase in attendance at our free classes and programs.

In November, district voters approved new millage funding for YDL. This restores the library to sound fiscal health, and will allow for the construction of a long-awaited third facility in Superior Township.

I believe our founders would be proud of what YDL has become. With their vision as a guide, and the support of our community, the future is bright.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, YDL!

The library celebrated 150 years of service with TWO big parties. YDL held a Gala at the Ypsilanti Freighthouse where community leaders raised a glass to the library, and raised more than $20,000 to support YDL services.

In September, a public birthday party at all three locations welcomed more than 600 guests to the library for music, games, historical interpreters, and to eat a whopping 24 birthday cakes!

LOOKING AHEAD

Amid the busyness of 2018, staff launched innovative new programs we hope will stand the test of time.

- STEM kits: From magnets to robots, high-tech toys and science learning equipment are now available for check out.
- Voter Education: With a two-page voter information spread in The Loop and a series of candidate forums, YDL partnered with the League of Women Voters to encourage an informed citizenry.
- Ypsi Family Read: By highlighting one great book each season, we encourage families to read together. The inaugural Family Read ended with a track meet celebrating Jason Reynolds' book, Ghost.
- Entrepreneurship: This series brought experts from WCC to help patrons file an LLC, write a business plan, and access resources.
