Forts can be so much fun. Building them is exciting and hanging out in them is even better! When planning a fort there are some important things to think about first. The checklist below will help you plan your fort. Remember, the best thing about a fort is you can always re-build! So don't worry if you don't get it right the first time.

Where will your fort be?

- Inside
- Outside

Will you need assistance?

- Yes
- No

If you answered yes to the question above, who will you ask to help you build your fort?

What do you want your fort to look like? Do you want a roof? How about walls?

What types of materials do you have to building your fort? (pillows, sheets, cardboard, tarps, sticks, etc.)

And finally, the most important question... What will you name your fort?
